The Memorial of the Union Prisoners to the President.

CONFEDERATE STATES PRISON, CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug -, 1564. To the President of the United States:

The condition of the culisted men belonging to the Union armies, now prisoners to the Confederate rebel torces, is such that it becomes our du'y, and the duty of every commissioned officer, to make known the facts in the case to the Government of the United States, and to the Government of the United States, and to ase every honorable effort to ascure a general exchange of prisoners, thereby relieving thou-sands of our comrades from the horrors now sarrounding them.

For some time past there has been a concertration of prisoners from all parts of the rebi territory to the State of Georgia—the commis-sioned officers being confued at Macon and the enlisted men at Andersonville. Recent movements of the Union armics under Genmovements of the Culou armies under sym-eral Sherman have compelled the removal of prisoners to other points, and it is now under-atood that they will be removed to Savannah, Georgia, and Columbus and Charleston, South Carolins. But no change of this kind holds out any prospect of relief to our paor men. Indeed, as the localities selected are for more aubealthy, there must be an increase rathe than a diminution of suffering. Colonel Hil Provost Marshal General, Confederate State Army, at Atlanta, stated to one of the nuder signed that there were thirty five thon sand prisoners at Auditoverille, and, wail accounts from the United States so tiers who have been confined there, the put ber is not overstated by him. These 35 000 are luclesed by a board fence, heavily guarded. About one-third have various kirds of indifferent shelter; but upward of 30,000 are kind, and are exposed to the storms and rains, which and are exposed to the storms and rains, which are almost of dally occurrence; the cold dewe are almost or daily occurrence; the cold dews of the night, and the more terrible effects of the sun striking with almost tropical flereness upon their upprotected heads. This mass of men justice and crowd each other up and down the limit of their inclosure, in storm or un, and others lie down upon the pittless earth at night, with no other covering than the clothers more than harks, for of them.

the clothing upon their backs, few of them baving even a blanket.

Upon estering the prison every man is deliberately stripped of money and other property, and as no clothing or blankets are ever supplied to their prisoners by the rebel suthericks, the condition of the apparel of the soldlers, just from an active eampaign, can be easily imagined. Thousands are without pants or coats, and bundreds without even a pair of drawers to cover their nakedness. To these men, as, indeed, to all prisoners here is issued three quarters of a pound of read or meal, and one-eighth of a pound meat per day. This is the entire ration; and upon it the prisoner must live or die. The meal is often unsitted and sour, and the meat such as in the North is consigned to the soap-maker. Such are the rations upon which Union soldiers are fed by the rebel authori-ties, and by which they are barely holding on to life. But to starvation and exposure to sun and storm, add the sickness which prevails to statements as the following, made by , apeak eloquent testimony. Said he, "Of twelve if no who were coptured, aix died, four are in the hospital, and I never expect to see them again. There are but two of us left." In 1863, at Montgomery. Alabama, unfer far circumstances, the prisoners being protected by sheds, from one hundred and it y to two hundred were a ck from diar hea and chil's, out of seven hundred. The same percentage would give a ven thou-sand sick at Andersonville. I: needs no coment, no efforts at word-paintleg, to make neh a picture stand out boldly in most bor-Nor is this all. Among the ill fated of the many who suffered amputation is conse-quence of injuries received before capture-sent from rebel hospitals before their woundwere herled, there are elequent witness a were hesled, there are cliquent witness a of the harbarides of which they are victims. If to these facts is added this, that nothing more demoralls a soldiers and develops the evil pa-sions of ones, than starvation, the terrible credition of Union prisoners at Anderson-ville can be readily imagined. They are fast losing hope and becoming utically reckless of Numbers, creard by liberately cross the "dead line," and are re-morsely aboutdown.

We are told that the criy ob atacle in the way of exchange is the slatus of enlisted pegrore, captured from our armies, the United States claiming that the cartel cov-ers all who serve under its flag, and the Conederate States refusing to consider the colared soldlers, heretofore slaves, as prisoners of

We beg leave to suggest some facts bearing appe the question of exchange, which we would argu upon this consideration. Is it not consistent with the national honor, without waiving the c'aim that the negro solitiers shall be treated as prisoners of wer, to effect an ex-charge of the white soldiers? The two classes are treated differently by the enemy. The whites are confined in such prisons as Libbs and Anderson ville, starved and treated with barbarism u known to civilized nations. To blacks, on the contrary, are seldom imprison d. They are distribused among the cistanus or employed on Government works. Under these circumsta cea, they receive enough t eat as d are worked no harder than they

They ere used arred nor killed off by the passilance is dungeous of Richmond and Charleston. true they are again made alaves; but thei slavery is treedem and happiness compared with the cruck existence imposed upon our gallant men. They are not bereft of hope, as are the walte soldlers, dying by piecement. Their chances to escape are tenfold greater han these of the white soldiers, and their co dilion, in all its lights, is tolerable in comparison with that of the prisoners of war now languishing in the dens and pens of secession.

While, therefore, believing the claims of our Government, in matters of exchange, to be just, we are profoundly impressed with the conviction that the circumstances of the two classes of soldiers are so widely different that the Government can honorably consent to an exchange, walving for a time the established principle justly claimed to be applicable in the case. Lat thirty-five thousand antioring, ctarving and dying callsted men aid this eppeal. By promot and declied action la their behalf, thirty-five thousand heroes will be made happy. Beymour's speech. The first of it will be found on the first page. - ED. DEM ]

While those in power with remove eneries the blood and treasure of our people, they will not give up their own passions for the public good. This Union is not held asunder by mili ary ambition. If our political trombles nid be referred to the peaceful arbitrament of the cratending armies in the field, our Union would be restored, the rights of the States would be guaranteed, the sacredness of nomes and of presons be again respected, and in insulted Judiciary would again administer the laws of the land.

Let not the rain of our country be charged to our solders. It is not oue to their teach age or their lanaticism. In my constant official laterviews with them I have never heard stered one certiment of harred toward the copie of the South. Beyond all men they blue the blessing of peace and the virtues of acrey, of gentleness and of charity, while who stay at home cry "havoc," and demend that no mercy shall be shown.

The bigorry of fanatics and the inirigues of prace men have made the bloody pages of the bistory of the pust three years. It was a aclder on whom our flavior bestowed his only

The Administration can't save this Usion.

We can, Mr. Lincoln values many things above the Union. We put it first of all. He above the Uplon. We put it mere that he pear. We think a proclamation work more than pear. We think the blood of our people more precious than his edice. There are no hindrances in our path to Ualon and pear. We demand uo conditious for the restoration of our Union. We are corrupted with no bates, no prejudices, o massions. We wish for fraternal relati ships with the people of the South. We de-mand for them what we demand for cursolves —the full recognition of the rights of the rates. We mean that every star on our na-ional better shall shine with an equal laster. in the coming election all men must decid with which of the two parties into whi prople are divided they will act. If they wish for Union they will act with that party which does now and always did love and rev-li they wish for peace they will act with If they wish for peace they will act with those who sought to avert the war, and who now reck to restore good will and harmony among all sections of our eventry, if they can. For the rights of persons and the sacredness of their homes they will act with those who have atood up to resid arbitrary arrests, deanotic legislation, and the overthrow of the Judiclary. Upon the other hand, if they are willing to constant the present policy of the Administration, and the present condition of m ristration, and the present condition of which brought about the present condition of our country—and there are many good men who will be led to do no by their passions and projudices, and our land awarms with placewho will held upon power and plund with a deadiy grasp—out as for us we are re-solved that the party who have made the his cory of our country, since their advent to t had its birth upon this appt, let us see by r action that it shall die here where it was When the Democratic party shall have guined prower, we shall not be less, but more tena-cious upon theas subjects. We have forborne much, became these who are now charged with the conduct of public of its know but little about the principles of our Government, and we were unwilling to present an appear-ance of factions opposition. But when we and we were unwitting to present an appearance of factions opposition. But when we shall have gained power, that official who shall violate one principle of law, one single right of the humblest man in the land, shall be punished with the full rigor of the law, it matters not if he sits in the Presidential chair, or holds the humblest office under our Government.

We desire usion and peace. The Adminis We desire usion and peace. Mr. Long, of Ohio, took the stand in oppo-sition to McClellan. He said that Lincoln had been guilty of interfering with the freedom of the elections and of arbitrary arrests, and in our resolutions you have arraigned him beyour resolutions you have arranged into before the peeple of the country for these tyrannies, and yet you propose to nominate a man for the ampport of the Domocracy who has gone even farther than Mr. Lincoln has gote, in the perpenation of similar tyranics and mempations of the sacred privileges of the people. McClellan is guilty of arresting the Legislature of a sovereign State. He has sua-pended the writ of habers corpus, and helped e enforce the odicus emancipation proclamstion of Lincoln—the willing instrument of a corrupt and tyrannical Administration, siding while possessing military power all its efforts to strip the American freemen of their desrest liberties. Will you so far studify yourselves thertics. Will you so far stutiffy yourselves as to make him the standard-beaver of the Democracy? With all my heart I hope not. He had never done otherwise, and as between Lincoln or Femon', and any man calling himself even half a Democrat, he would have a choice and would be found voting. have a choice, and would be found voting with his friends, but he hegged the Convention not to nominate McCleilan. The heat feeling exists between him and President Lincoln, and his resignation, at a suitable time, will not he regarded as a discourtesy by the Executive. It will be seen, therefore, that our State is not necessarily to be deprived of Mr. Fessenden's distinguished abilities and eminent talents in the U.S. Sen ate. Ills friends will insist upon his return to that body at the commencement of the next erm, and we are glad to know that it will no be distasteful to him to comply with their wishes. And we are quits sure that, having yished to the demands of others to sacrifice a place every way in harmony with his feelings for the public good, the people of Maloe will ot see him suffer for so doing, but will have stated and great the next six years. It would be a great mistake to do otherwise, particularly when it is known that as a Senator he stood at the head of that body, and exerted more influ-ence, perhaps, than any other man in the Sen-

It is the hand organ of Abraham Lincoln. Yet so apparent are the evils that now sellict us, so shocking is the mismanagement of our national sffilrs, that even this journal, on the 4th of August, felt constrained to make the most damaging admissions to its patrons. It said:

The Government is paying to-day two dol-lars and a half for every dollar's worth of ma-terial it is haying to carry on this war. The soldiers who are fighting your battles are suf-fering for their pay because of the want of funds in the treasury. Their families are suffering for food and c'othing, because the soldier does not get his hard carned wages. We are entailing on ourselves and on our children double the debt there is any necessity for, and running the risk of a rejudialed currency and a dis-honored national credit, because greenbacks are at a discount and gold at a premium. We are adding daily to the prices of every leading article, and imposing a fearful advance on the ery necessaries of life, thus necessitationstant advance in wages, which, in ompels an increase in the price of goods, and the end will inevitably be national bankrupte; a fearful financial crash, unless this terrib nhancement of value is arrested.

FOREIGN SCIENCE.

SAPONIFICATION. At a recent meeting of the Paris Academy of Sciences, M. Pelouze read a paper on the saponification of fatty substances by alkaline sulphurets. Tallow and oil con tain fatty acids combined with glycerine, and the elimination of the latter consti tutes asponification. If effected by metallic oxides, the compound obtained is called soap; and hence the substance known under that name consists of fatty acid combined with restaurance. bined with potash or soda, and deprived of glycerine. Many years ago M. l'elouze, after discovering that alkaline salts could produce soap without the intervention of water, found that alkaline sulphurets possessed a similar property. Having taken up these experiments again, he prepared some crystals of mono-sulphuret of sodium, and mixed them with their weight of tallow or oil. After a contact of several days, the fatty matter was found completely saponified. By boiling this sosp in water hydrosulphuric acid is evolved, and, if this operation be continued, the monosulphuret of sodium is reconstituted.

SILK WORMS.

M. Guerin Meneville produced some eplendid cocoons of the common silkworm. He stated that, taking advantage of the mission intrusted to him for the purpose of endeavoring to acclimatize foreign silkworms in France, he had examined various worm had never made its appearance. One of these was the Ursuline Convent of Montigny-aur-Vingeanne (Cote-d Or) where the silk worm was reared without any difficulty. The cocoons produced came from that locality, and would serve to obtain sound eggs, whereby the trade would to save the cost of forly-four millions of killogrammes of co coons annually bought up in foreign parts.

ATMOSPHERIC CURRENTS. In a paper addressed to the Academy, Mr. Lartigue explains some views of his on fer materially from those generally re-

He admits that the rarefaction of the atmosphere under the tropics causes currents I give him credit—full credit—for high of cold air to come from the poles, thus constituting the trade-winds; but he qotes observations of his own to show that the cold currents are generally retarded by the currents of warm air which move from the tropics toward the poles in consequence of the same rarefaction. He admits the influence of the rotation of the earth on campus major or minor? Are you preconsiderable than is generally supposed. Natural philosophers are generally of opinion that the currents proceeding from the equator to the poles, in order to replace the air rushing from the poles to the equator, are at a higher altitude than the cold currents; but M. Lartigue has observed them to move, in most cases, side by side with the

Another opinion of his, not admitted by others, is that the polar and trade-winds blowing near the surface of the earth earry the air to a very great altitude; the com-mon opinion being that the winds blowing in the higher strata of the atmosphere always follow directions diametrically op-posite to those of the terrestrial currents. According to our author, they blow at right tire emancipation, or would be not rather angles to the others, and sometimes even at an acute angle. He further attributes land habit of sitting on chairs had worn off and sea-breezes to the differences of temperatures existing at different altitudes, with society suggested not to store up their while, according to most authorities, they dinner in their jaws? ROTATION OF LIQUIDS.

In a recent French Journal of Science is a paper by M. Desire Gernetz, on the rotation of liquids. M. Gernetz says:

56 degrees in atmospheric air), then, if the reflected ray lies in the same plane with the incident ray, there is no loss of py; their next stage on the journey light; but if the two rays lie in different planes, the reflected one will be weaker, and even be hardly visible if at right angles to the plane of the other; the light is then said to be polarized. Now, in passing through different substances, the polarizing angle varies; and this variation of the angle of the two planes is called the power of rotation, because you would have to turn one of the planes round a certain number one of the planes round a certain number of degrees in order to obtain the beam of clare that anatomy only can detect some light in its natural state. This power of small and insignificant discrepancies beams of the country of the Arago, in 1811, and in various liquids by Biot in 1815.

When the plane of polarization deviates to the right, it is called dextrogyre; when to the left, levogyre. M. Gernetz's experiments tend to determine the rotary power of certain liquide at different temperatures, by means of certain delicate arrangements, which it is not our province to describe; the liquids experimented upon being essence of turpentine, which is levogyre, the eslution of camphor, which are all dextrogyre. The results at which he arrives are 1. The rotatory power of active liquids for the same ray right of light depends upon the temperature; 2. When the temperature approaches boiling-point, the rotatory power varies with some rapidity; When the liquid is reduced to the state of vapor, the rotatory power does not selves. Away with your unworthy change its direction; that is, it remains levogyre, if it was so before, and conversely; and 4. SPONTANEOUS GENERATION.

The London Court Journal says: eration for five years past has been hotiy mode, however, of expressing admiration attacked by some and as ardently defend-ed by other French eavans. Its chief de-fenders have been M. Pouchet, of Rouen, M. handsome she'd be if she only had a Jolly, of Toulouse, and his pupil, M. D. goitre f' Musset. All three have brought forward most ingenious arguments in its support, and they firmly believe in this theory. M. Pasteur, who belongs to the Baconian school, has made innumerable experiments. which have led him to believe there is no such thing as spontaneous generation, and that the birth of animalculæ, adduced by Jolly, is due to innumerable germs which float in the atmosphere. The opponents of M. l'asteur have, they in turn allege, proved the contrary by means of experiments.

Of our Brothers Beyond the Border. There is a story current of a certain very minent French naturalist, who is so profoundly impressed by the truth of the Darwinian theory that he never passes the cage where the larger apes are confined in the Jardin des Plantes without taking off his hat, making a profound obcisance, and wishing them a bon jour.

This recognition is touching and graceful. The homage of the witches to him who should be king hereafter, had in it a sort of mockery that made it horrible; but here we have an act of generous courtescy, based alike on the highest discover-good-breeding.

The learned Professor, with all the in stincts of great acquirements and much self-knowledge united, admits them at once to equality and fraternity-the liberty, perhaps, they will have to wait some time for; but in that they are no worse off than some millions of their fellow-countrymen. One might speculate long-I don't know exactly how profitably-on the sense of gratitude these creatures must feel for this ouching kindness, how they must long for the good man's visit, how they must wonder by what steps he arrived at this astonishing knowledge, how surprised they must feel that he does not make more converts; and, last of all, what pains they must For Sale. take to exhibit in their ontward bearing and behavior that they are not unworthy of the high consideration he bestows on them! And if you are not ready to do this, what avails all your assumption of superiority?

In these—they are not many—lie the alleged differences between you and your caged cousins yonder." Thus speaks, or might speak, the Professor; and, I repeat, respect his candor; but still I would venture to submit one small, perhaps un-generous doubt, and ask, Would he, acting on the noble instincts that move him. vote these creatures an immediate and enlic life, become public functionaries, and Take Aver's Pills, and c sem from the obstructions - high make disease. A cold section somewho o in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not colleved, recet upon them-salves and the currounding argans, producing general sactawation, enferine and disease. While in this condition, appressed by the derangemente, take Aper's Pills, and series and with it the buowant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many at the deep natical and denerous distempers. The same pareative effect expels them. Caused by dualiar obstructions and derangements of the natural motions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the ante means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ thum when eaffering from the disorders they cure.

Agr'l Sec. Franklin Co., N. From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 185 8 Dn. Aven: Your Pil's are the peragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter u' ulcerous evres upon her hands and feet that had proved incursible for years. Her mother has been ione grievousiv affilieted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After one child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have curad her ASA MORURIDGE.

As a Family Medicine. From Dr. E. W. Carteright, Non Orleans Tour Pills are the prince of purses. Their excellent qualities surpass any eathartic wa posses.
